Occupying new niches with innovative ideas is a matter of course at specialmedia.com GmbH. In this age of time constraints and increasingly tight budgets, information combined with perfect usability gives readers added value. It also means more expertise, quality and convenience. In this regard, our aim is to develop competent media to facilitate modern information management - with the ideal environment for traditional print advertising: an exclusive and generous format, an appealing design, the best paper and the highest quality print production. The media professionals Prof. Hans-Jürgen Manstein and Prof. Mag. Michael Grabner, together with the "Manstein Zeitschriften-Verlag" publishing house, are responsible for implementing this demanding approach.
